"DOC" ROSSI IS ARRESTED

Maple Creek Lad Is Being Held On Suspicion After His Arrest Follows At Hands of Chief of Police James A. Murphy—Victim's Trousers on Porch

A thief, thought to be a young boy, entered two Charleroi residents at an early hour this morning, while the occupants were asleep, and secured a total amount of $85.

At 105 Fallowfield avenue, the home of August Fitzer, the thief gained entrance by removing the screen from a rear window and making his way upstairs, escaped with $80, which he secured from the pockets of Mr. Fitzer's trousers. The trousers were found on the rear porch this morning.

The home of E. E. Hileman, 118 Fallowfield avenue, was the second place visited. Here the robber made his entry through the rear window on the back porch, stepping on the table and chair, where the footprints of a boy probably 13 or 14 years of age was left, which may lead to the culprit's identity. The robber, finding a number of purses in the buffet drawer of the dining room helped himself to the contents, which amounted to a little over $5. He made his getaway out the rear door, which was standing open this morning when the Hileman family awakened.

Chief of Police James A. Murphy immediately began an investigation, and placed "Doc" Rossi, of Maple Creek, under arrest on suspicion.

BOY DROWNS IN A RAIN BARREL AT WEBSTER

William Laughland, aged 2 years, 8 months and 10 days, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Laughland of Webster, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, was drowned in a barrel of rain water.

His parents had left the boy playing down stairs, while they were papering an upstairs room, and after a time, failing to hear the boy about, went in search of him and found his body in the barrel that had been cut down half size, and used for washing. The barrel was placed outside the house, and the little fellow had climbed up the side, fallen in, and met his death.

Funeral services will take place tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock, followed by interment in the Monongahela cemetery.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE PRESBYTERY

The annual spring convention of the young people of the Chartiers Presbytery was held yesterday in the Pigeon Creek United Presbyterian church at Eighty-Four with a large and enthusiastic attendance.

There were two sessions, one in the afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock, and one in the evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The afternoon session was opened by Wilma McConnell, who led in devotions. The response to the address of welcome was given by Howard Henry, of Eighty Four.

Following a period of music which was especially enjoyed, four-minute talks were given by the young people, the topic being "Be Strong." Arthur Knox spoke of being strong in prayer; William Stunkard, in giving; Glenn Quivey, in service; and Halden Williams in faith. The addresses were all well presented and reflected favorably on the young people.

CONVENTION ADJOURNED THIS MORNING UNTIL 3 O'CLOCK THIS AFTERNOON

Divine Is A Worker In God's Vineyard

Dr. Charles L. E. Cartwright, who is to speak in the M. E. church in the Anniversary services tomorrow, is a most remarkable man.

Going back along the line of his ancestors, we find him connected with the celebrated Peter Cartwright of earlier Methodist history. Studying his career as a pastor, we find marvelous ingatherings and great churches attesting that he is a "workman that needeth not to be ashamed."

As an evangelist he has had marked success.

As a lecturer he has pleased great audiences in Chautauquas, commencement—anywhere on lecture platforms, throughout the many states in which he has traveled.

As a man he is sincere, earnest, possessed of magnetism, vision, power.

200 EXTRA COPS ON DUTY AT THE CONVENTION

New York, June 28.—Fairly enmeshed in the issue of the Ku Klux Klan, the Democratic National convention will reconvene at 3 o'clock this afternoon in a session fraught with every possibility of the most sensational meeting in political history.

Talk of possible rioting is heard on every hand. 200 extra policemen have been ordered on duty inside Madison Square Garden and reserves have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for duty.

After one of the most dramatic sessions a resolution committee ever held at the convening of which members stood with heads bowed in prayer, William J. Bryan, with upraised hand sought divine guidance; Chairman Cummings reported to the convention that an agreement had not been reached on the Klan plank. A recess was taken until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Meantime Ed Moore, leader of the Anti-Klan forces, is planning a coup for this afternoon, which would unquestionably throw the convention into a turmoil.

Moore's temper had been aroused to frenzy. If the committee is not ready to report by 3 o'clock, he intends to demand the floor and will move that the committee be discharged from further consideration of the Klan plank. This will bring an immediate test vote. The plank would then be submitted from the floor and for the first time in political history, religious issues would be fought out in open convention with all the attendant bitterness that invariably arises.

"Everywhere temper is rising. The factions are so far apart upon the issue of the plan that state delegations have started quarrelling among themselves. Candidates are afraid to make statements for fear they may become involved that nomination possibilities will be wrecked before balloting starts. Old experienced leader forces foresee even possible wrecking of the party upon this question of religious tolerance.

"The Klansmen forces at noon were claiming vilely that the outlook is for the adoption of a plank that will not upset the Klan.

"The outlook is more promising," Judge Rockwell said, "and the judgment of the wiser man in the Democratic party is about to prevail, by (Continued on page 4.)

SAVAGE DOG BITES A CHILD

Irene Feeney, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Feeney, of Lookout avenue, was severely bitten by a dog at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, in the grocery store of C. C. Stephens in Fifth street. The little girl had been sent to the store by her mother to make several purchases, and was on the interior when the dog attacked her. The beast caught the little girl above the right eye, his teeth sinking deeply into the flesh.

She was rushed to the office of Dr. J. K. Smith, who resides nearby, and the wound dressed. Later in the afternoon, swelling developed and the child was taken to the office of Dr. V. P. Vieslet. Her condition is satisfactory.

A RESIDENT OF DONORA SUICIDES—BODY IS FOUND

The body of Aloise Urbanki, age 48 years, a resident of Twelfth street extension, just outside the borough limits of Donora was found this morning by Deputy Coroner Rabe, who had been called to the Urbanki home to make an investigation into the disappearance of the man. Urbanki had been missing from his home since Tuesday.

The body of the man was found in the cellar of his home hanging from one of the rafters by the neck. He had been dead for a couple of days. No reason can be given for the man's rash act. He is survived by his widow and five children.

Town Looks Pretty With Flag Floating

Charleroi looks prettier than ever with McKean and Fallowfield avenues decorated with flags proudly floating. The advent of "Bazaar Week" as given by the Charleroi Fire department is awaited with something akin to avidity.

Of course, the parade on Monday night will be seen by hundreds of people—Charlerois and those from without the borough, at the conclusion of which the populace will witness the star act as given by Sully, Rodgers and Sully, which comes here direct from New York city.

On the glorious holiday, there will be a free act from the girls of Turners, and also boxing contests. Another feature will be the turning and Indian club act from Turners, and not the least, will the day conclude with a fireworks display to excel anything of the kind ever witnessed in Charleroi.

The place will be the vacant space at the Pennsylvania railroad depot.

BROTHER OF DIRECTOR GENERAL IS DEAD

Hague, June 28.—F. L. Deterding, brother of Sir Henry Deterding, director general of the Royal Dutch Petroleum Co., is dead.

Guarantors Meet Last Night To Prepare For The Chautauqua

With the Hon. James T. Heffran, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, officiating as chairman a meeting of the guarantors of the Chautauqua was held in the office of the Chamber of Commerce secretary last evening.

Organization was formally effected and committees were named. George W. Night is chairman of the ticket selling committee; John D. Berryman, chairman of the advertising committee; B. B. Fox, chairman of the tents and lighting committee.

The Chautauqua, which comes here from the Redpath Chautauqua Bureau, will probably be held at the Pines, as of last year. The dates are from July 29 to August 4, inclusive. It is said that the attractions this year will be better than ever and that means much as the Chautauqua gave universal satisfaction last year and if it is to be even better this year this fact will be greatly pleasing to the patrons.

MASTERS IS TO ATTEND MEETING

County Treasurer J. Edgar Masters, a Charleroi business man, and past grand exalted ruler of the B. P. O. Elks, will go to Boston next week to attend the grand lodge reunion to be held in that city July 7 to July 12.

The historical city has made big preparations for entertaining the thousands of the antlered hosts, who with their families, will crowd Boston. W. D. Rancher, district deputy grand exalted ruler for the Pennsylvania southwest, will also be in attendance.

A party will leave Pittsburgh next Monday evening, which is making an itinerary by way of Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Toronto, Montreal and Quebec, and thence down through New York state to Albany and from Albany to Boston in time for the convention. The trip from Boston home will be by boat to Philadelphia, thence to Washington, D. C., by train and return home.

GARBAGE COLLECTION

On and after July 1, 1924, Garbage collection in North Charleroi borough will be made on Tuesday and Friday.

MAN IS RECKLESS; WILL PROVE COSTLY

TWO ARE KILLED WHEN AIRPLANE FALLS 1,000 FEET

Akron, Ohio, June 28.—Howard R. Calvert, 35, of Medina, Ohio, and Miss E. Wilda Wickersham, 21, of Cuyahoga Falls, were killed Friday night when the airplane in which they were flying crashed to the ground from an altitude of 1,000 feet.

Calvert, a commercial aviator, and instructor in flying, had taken Miss Wickersham up for an instruction flight and it is believed the girl was in control of the machine when the motor suddenly stopped.

They heard the motor suddenly sputter and die, then with a searchlight, they saw the big plane suddenly slide into a tail spin and come hurtling down on end to earth.

The plane had just entered the first turn of a loop-the-loop when the motor failed. Mechanics at the Stowe Flying field began tearing the motor apart today in an effort to determine what caused the crash.

Collection of Liquor-Making Appliances, Still, et cetera, At District Attorney's Office Large, Is Growing Day By Day

PLENTY OF LIQUOR, ALSO

According to Report — County Detective Forces Collaborating With Local Minions, Are Working Assiduously. It Is Said, In Ferreting Violations

It will be some little time—six weeks or such matter—ere the August term of criminal court convenes; nevertheless the collection of liquor-making appliances, stills, et cetera, in the possession of the district attorney's office, already large, is constantly being amplified, according to the best information at hand. Nearly every day the county detectives, or officers of the townships or boroughs, take a still or other contraband equipment to the county seat. These are all properly tagged as to "where" and "who," and put away as evidence.

The collection of liquor, also, of every kind and description, odor and power, is on the increase day by day. There are approximately two vaults of John Barleycorn's "evidence" in Washington.

These warm days cause it to ferment freely, and when one of the vaults is opened for the reception of additional stuff, the smell that permeates the corridors of the court house beats any smell that ever offends the nostrils in a cheap saloon.

No large quantity of any seized liquor is kept these days. A sample is run off in a bottle and that sample tagged and sent to the hospital chemical department for analysis. The balance of the liquor is destroyed. It is an interesting looking exhibit when samples of these liquors are set out for taking to the hospital. Some of it is just about the same as so much T. N. T.

The county detective forces are quietly working every day, ferreting out liquor law violations. Seven or eight stills have been taken to the county seat this week. In this work the sleuths are being assisted by local minions in the borough or town in interest.

HOLIDAY WEEK.

Holiday week in Charleroi is to be made more felicitous than is the accustomed wont through virtue of the "putting on" by the firemen of the borough of what is known as a "Fireman's Bazaar."

That attractions of the bazaar—what will be offered for sale, and the amusement features, are, or should be, sufficient to afford the people of the borough and the community enough diversion to create in reality, the most successful from a pleasurable standpoint, of any Fourth of July week held in the borough in years.

Charleroi firemen are a patriotic aggregation of men, who give of their time, and even when necessary, risk their lives, to save business, public, and personal property. Of their efficiency as firemen, of their willingness, their readiness to give of their best efforts at any and all times, the public is cognizant. They have accumulated the best of equipment to assist them in making and sustaining their reputation of the "best firemen in the state," and the public should show its appreciation of the boys by its liberal contributions at the bazaar, where the almighty dollar will come into play assured that the purchaser is getting fully 100 cents' worth for every dollar expended.

In another sense the amalgamation of firemen here in the big parade of Monday night will have for its sequence a more congenial feeling among those who protect property interests as reflects this valley.

The firemen's bazaar should be the success the present prospects portend.

During the hearing of a lawsuit he fudge reproved a man for making unnecessary noise.
"Your honor," was the reply, "I am not my overcoat, and I am looking about to find it."
"Well, sir," said the judge, "people often lose whole suits here without making so much disturbance as you."

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Cooper Pitches One Of The Best Games Of His Entire Career

Wilbur Cooper's strong left whip stirred up more smoke yesterday than $1,000,000 corn-cob pipes at a National convention of the nicotine party, and the Chicago Cubs were held completely at anchor in the gulf of whitewash. When his brothers inaugurated a merry slugging bee at the beginning of the battle and backed him up with five tallies for a starter, the southpaw ace showed his appreciation by keeping up an incessant barrage of enigmatical remarks and the fan could not see where at all. The Buccaneers counted up a string of nine markers against a similar number of goose-eggs.

Hazen Cuyler had the distinction of knocking in the deciding point with a three-bagger in the first inning after Eddie Moore had led off with a wallop of the same length and Scoops Carey had coaxed a pass-off his former teammate, Elmer Jacobs, who started the mound work for the Bruins. Cuyler's war-club was responsible for the settling of Thursday's combat and therefore has been a hero for two afternoons in succession.

Cooper's magnificent hurling, combined with the terrific smashing tactics of his pals, caused the contest to become one-sided in the highest degree. After 11 batsmen had faced him without any of them getting a glimpse of first base he relented momentarily with two out in the fourth and permitted George Grantham to hop a little hit into center. Grimes followed with a base on balls, but the hopes of the Bears were blasted when Barney Friberg was induced to lift a lofty fly to Carey.

At the end of the 16 matches the score was tied 8-8, but the judges gave the Belgians the decision because they had scored 60 touches to 56. The Argentines announced they would protest as the outcome should be decided by the number of matches instead of touches.

Other results: Italy defeated Austria 13 to 3 Hungary defeated Switzerland 9 to 7.

In Society's Realm

A miscellaneous shower was accorded Mrs. Joe Dobson, a recent bride, who was formerly known as Miss Mary Lycept, last evening at her home in 507 Eighth street by the Bell telephone operators and a number of other intimate friends. A delightful program of games and music was enjoyed by all present, at the close of which a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess. Mrs. Dobson received many beautiful and useful presents, among which was a set of silverware presented her by the operators.

With a fine attendance, the entertainment and social given by the Young Peoples Episcopal Association of the Trinity church, Monessen held last evening in the church school room, was a great success. Charleroi Crozier club was represented by nine members. An interesting program of games and music was carried out under the supervision of Miss Sarah Morris of Belle Vernon and a high spirit of fun prevailed throughout the evening. In closing, dainty refreshments were served and the out-of-town guests made their way to their respective homes—Charleroi, Monongahela and Brownsville.

Mrs. J. W. Herman entertained at her home in Lucella avenue last evening, honor of Miss Helen Mildred Postle, whose engagement to Cecil A. PINCIC IS HELD
BY A CLASS

The Men's Bible class of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church held a picnic at Oakland park yesterday evening. Led by their teacher, Prof. J. L. Roberts, and their president John H. Clutter, the class and their families assembled at the grounds, where a bountiful picnic dinner was served.

Arch Osborne then called for the ball teams to line up for a game. The teams were captained by John Ferry and Chauncey Collins. Sr. Ferry got his team away to a good start by knocking the opposing pitcher, L. Metz out of the box in the second inning, while "Jim" Hill held the opposition in check. After Metz had been driven to the showers, Thornberg took up the twirling and from that time on it was an air-tight twirling duel between Hill and Thornberg. Captain Ferry and his team faltered in the field, however, and through errors and a few hits Captain Collins and his bunch of sluggers pulled the game out of the fire and won with a score of 9 to 6.

The ladies did their part by impartially cheering each side in turn for the many close and brilliant plays. Altogether it was a most interesting and profitable evening.

200 COPS ARE ON DUTY AT THE CONVENTION

that I mean that the platform will reflect a national party view rather than a local view."

The conference of leaders was called at noon at the Manhattan club and Governor Smith left his hotel to attend it.

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 28.—The Democratic party today stood on the brink of perhaps the most fateful decision in its history—whether to make the Klan a direct issue of the coming campaign. Throughout the night behind closed doors, members of the resolutions committee debated the question until, from sheer inability to longer think and talk coherently, they ceased at 5:30 a. m., and went to bed. They had reached no decision at this hour and had taken no votes on the issue.

The convention is scheduled to reconvene at 9:30 to hear the platform. But the committee has sent word to Chairman Walsh a recess should be taken until 3 p. m., when it is hoped the committee will be ready.

The anti-Klan storm has now reached such proportions the time for balloting on presidential nominees is uncertain and can scarcely be expected before Monday, if then.

The subject of candidates has been submerged in the deluge of Klan discussion. In hotel corridors, dining rooms, private conferences and on the floor of the convention, all conversation was directed at the Klan.

At 9:15 a. m. scarcely anyone had arrived at the convention hall. There were extra policemen already stationed in every aisle and through the spectators sections. It was stated that 200 extra police were on hand for the session, determined to prevent any trouble and keep the aisles clear.

When 9:30 arrived—the hour the convention was told to reassemble—only a score of delegates were in their seats and the spectators sections and platform were virtually deserted.

Each delegate found on his or her chair today a circular bearing Major George L. Berry for vice president.

Since receiving her Bachelor of Science degree at the Pennsylvania State College, June 11, Miss Parks has been doing Child Welfare Research work at Carbondale, Pa., where statistics show an abnormal mortality rate. The survey of conditions in Carbondale is being made under the direction of Dr. May Riggs Noble of the State Health Department in order to determine the cause of the infant deaths.

Miss Parks will teach Home Economics in the local High school next term, from which institution she was graduated in the June class of 1920.

LILLIAN GISH IN THE WHITE SISTER

Would you like to see Rome, the city of the seven eternal hills? Would you like to visit Mt. Vesuvius, Italy's death-belching volcano. Would you like to enjoy the charm of Sorrento, the jewel of Italy's north-Naples, with its bay of blue—ancient Tivoli, the town of narrow tortuous streets?

You don't have to visit Italy to see these natural grandeur. They form the setting for Lillian Gish's greatest dramatic triumph, "The White Sister," which is coming on Monday to the Coyle Theatre.
